

Cross Curricula Desks For Schools

Why build a new ICT Classroom when you can simply re-use your existing space?

In today's modern classroom the need for access to a computer is becoming more and more essential. The illustrations show some installations of our Cross Curricula Desks at schools and colleges in the south of England.

Corporate Interiors can offer a flexible solution to schools, giving computer access in your existing classrooms with the ability to convert the desk back to a standard table.
